WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE BY HANGING

Mrs. Harrison Thurman Commits Suicide Because Of Despondency.

Despondency is said to have been the cause of Mrs. Harrison Thurman taking her own life last Thursday morning by hanging herself in the barn on their farm near Cloverport. Mr. Thurman was in this city that morning and when he returned home he found Mrs. Thurman dead.

A short funeral service was held on Friday afternoon from the residence by Rev. E. B. English. The interment took place in the Cloverport cemetery.

Mrs. Thurman was sixty-two years old and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Oelze, and she is next to the last of that immediate family to be taken. One sister, Mrs. Jarboe of Oklahoma survives with the husband.

ROUTE QUESTION SETTLED SOON

Wiley Will Send A State And Federal Engineers To Go Over Proposed Routes.

Mr. Paul Lewis and Mr. D. B. Phelps were in Henderson, Thursday attending the meeting of the Ohio River Route Highway Association of which Mr. Lewis is Secretary. Representatives were present from all of the counties concerned in the highway contemplated from Louisville to Paducah, except Hardin and McCracken. Breckinridge county was officially represented by Mr. Paul Basham and Rev. J. F. Knue, Judge Payne was unable to attend. All the counties reported satisfactory financial progress which was mainly the object of the meeting.

Judge Newman, chairman of the Association read a letter from Rodman Wiley, State Road Commissioner, stating that about May 15, a federal engineer with an engineer from the State department, would be sent here to go over the routes proposed and decide which way would be most feasible.

A suggestion was made at the meeting by Judge Newman, to decide the road and call the highway from Louisville to Henderson the Stanley Route; and the section from Henderson to Paducah, the James Highway. This called for considerable discussion after which all motions were tabled and the meeting adjourned subject to call by Judge Newman.

FIRE DAMAGED

C. E. Lightfoot's Home. Spark From Chimney Catches To The Shingle Roof.

Postmaster Chas E. Lightfoot narrowly escaped losing his home in the West End of the city last Wednesday morning by fire. Mrs. Lightfoot, who was in the midst of having house cleaning done, had some trash burning in one of the grates, and it is supposed that a spark from the chimney fell on the shingle roof and caught fire. Very soon afterwards a little girl passed the home and seeing the fire gave an alarm before the blaze had made much headway. The L. H. & St. L. shop men hurried to the scene, and the fire was soon extinguished.

The fire damages were very promptly and satisfactorily settled by C. B. and O. T. Skillman, local agents for the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Given a Vacation in Month of May.

Miss Edith Burn, book-keeper for the Breckinridge-Bank of Cloverport, has been granted by the directors of the bank, a vacation during the month of May, to begin Saturday. After a short visit in Louisville, Miss Burn will return here, and she with her sister, Miss Margaret Burn will go to St. Petersburg, Kans. for a fortnight's stay with Dr. E. C. McDonald and Mrs. McDonald.

CARTER'S LANDING

Easter has come and gone and we didn't have the price of a new Easter bonnet. But every girl we met had on a new lid. Some of the prettiest creations what am. The girls have to have 'em high cost or no high cost. Well why not. How can a girl look pretty under a last year's modle. All the girls that are not matrimonially inclined had better aviate. Why because Herman Waggoner and Lewis Beavin of Hites Run have machines.

Herman Waggoner and Lefe Behn tackled the bachelors club goat Wednesday evening Herman says riding the goat is more exciting than chasing the Kaiser. We don't think Lefe will be a bachelor much longer. He is talking to the girls again. James McGovern fresh from the battle front dropped down from Camp Zach, Sunday. James is looking fine and as fat as a flounder when he arrived at Cloverport, he was a whistling. "How are You Going to Keep 'em Down on the Farm After They Have Seen Paree." Sgt. R. C. Carter of

FIVE SENIORS TO BE GRADUATED

From Cloverport High School This Year Commencement To Be Held On May 21.

The Senior Class of the Cloverport High School has five members this year all of whom are to be graduated and receive their diplomas at the commencement held Wednesday evening, May 21, in the Methodist church.

Prof. J. T. C. Noe, who heads the Department of Education in the Kentucky State University, has been invited by Superintendent O. F. Galloway to deliver the commencement address on that evening, and the invitation was accepted. Another feature on the program which is enjoyed annually, is the High School girls' chorus and they are being prepared now under the direction of the Misses May.

Class day will be Monday, May 19, and the class exercises will be held that evening.

The members of the 1919 class are Misses Lora Carson, Cecil Jolly, Louise Weatherholt, and Chlorea Mae Seaton, and Joseph H. Ballman. In order to successfully complete their course this year, the Seniors have been attending school on Saturday, to make up for the time lost during the influenza epidemic.

LIBERTY SUNDAY, MAY 4

Secretary of Treasury Sets Aside This Day to Combine Patriotism With Worship.

Secretary of the Treasury Glass has set aside Sunday, May 4, as National Liberty Loan Sunday, when churches and church people will be expected to show their patriotism throughout the nation by talking and buying Victory Liberty Notes (short term bonds.)

The day is to be especially consecrated to the cause of the Government in finishing the work begun and successfully carried on so far for world peace and a permanent victory. Ministers, priests and rabbis are expected to deliver addresses and conduct special meetings in the interest of the notes the Government must sell to the people in order to complete the great work.

Two main kinds of loyalty are taught in the Bible—loyalty to God and to country—and our forefathers who suffered to establish this republic combined the two ideas as absolutely necessary to a lasting Government. On the day set aside for the purpose the people are asked to combine worship and patriotism.

Sunday, May 4, should be a red-letter day for all churches, synagogues and other institutions of a religious nature, as well as for all leaders and others will see to it that the drag net is used effectively that no one escape who is at all able to support his Government by buying the notes offered.

Mexico, San Domingo, Cuba and Haiti arrived home a few days ago. He says the worst enemy he met while with the Sammies was this Jaz music. Well we can agree with Rich It sounds like a barn full of noise running riot. Joe Burke says its not the grub you get in the army that makes you fat. It's a change of scenery. Say cousin, Lodiburg, I am on to you now your name isn't Lodiburg neather is it Brown nor Jones. Mike Ketner of Holt, built a silo last fall that would hold about fifty tons of insilage. After it was completed, he backed up a few steps looked at it for a moment and said well, I wish it was full of sauer kraut.

Galloway, Superintendent; Miss Mary Owen Oelze, first assistant; Miss Lillian Cart, 8th grade; Miss Margaret Wroe 6th and 7th grades; Miss Ruth Chambliss, 4th and 5th grades; Primary, Miss Julia Wroe. The 2nd and 3rd grade teacher's place was left open for the present.

SMALL OIL WELL IS DISCOVERED

Near Mook In Breckinridge County. 25 Bbl. Well For The Falcon Oil and Gas Co.

Falcon Oil and Gas Co., which has been drilling a well for sometime on the farm of Pile Bros., near Mook, this County, drilling in to Carniferous Limestone, at a depth of from 1200 to 1500 ft. and have struck oil of a very superior quality. This is a successful demonstration that the underlying stratas under Breckinridge county, carry a very high grade of crude petroleum, samples of which have been shipped to the refinery in Louisville, and tests prove that it produces a 40 per cent gasoline, which is not equal to but greater than any Lee or Estill County oil, in gasoline contents.

Mr. L. T. Haney, Manager of the Falcon Oil Co., says it would be unreasonable to expect that the first well drilled by the Falcon Oil & Gas Co., in the county would puncture the most profitable pool of oil lying under this territory, but it is clearly demonstrated that there is oil in paying quantities in this section and further drilling will indicate in which direction future wells will be located.

This their No. 1 well contains some gas but there has been a noted absence of water, and it is believed that the shooting of this well will result in at least a 25 barrel well.

The well will be shot, cased and pumped immediately.

Arrive in Camp Taylor.

Among the casualties who arrived in Camp Taylor, Monday morning from overseas, were the names of two Breckinridge County boys. Chas W. Glascock of Axtel, and Green, Clem of Cloverport. These boys were wounded in action.

Commissioned 2nd. Lieut.

Mr. J. F. McGary of Kirk has recently had a letter from his son, Eugene McGary in France, and who writes that he received his commission as 2nd. Lieutenant, March 16. Lieut. McGary's friends in Breckinridge county will be rejoiced to learn of his successful life in soldiering.

Wool Growers Attention!

The management of the Irvington Wool Pool, formerly conducted by Chas. H. Drury, will be assumed and continued by the committee of men whose names are appended hereto.

Date and place of delivery will be on May 20, 1919 at Irvington, Ky.

Any and all wool growers in Breckinridge and Meade counties are welcome. Considerable time may be required to negotiate the sale of this wool.

The buyers should not be approached until the most of the pledges are in, because the bigger the pool the pool more respect can be commanded. So please let us have your pledges at once, giving numbers of fleeces (black fleeces separate) and estimated number of pounds.

Urge your neighbor to send his pledge also, thereby helping us to help you to help us all to get the highest market price for our wool.

Address all communications and pledges to the secretary.

Respectfully,
Ginger Bandy.

Roy Cain, Secretary.

LIFE CLOSES FOR AN AGED VETERAN

James L. Frank of McQuady Spent His Days in Useful And Conservative Living

McQuady, Ky., April 28, 1919. (Special)—Sad is this community today for one of its best citizens has gone home, Bro. James L. Frank was called from time to eternity. On the morning of the 15th of April Bro. Frank's spirit took its flight to a fairer world than this. The funeral services were conducted by the writer at the home of the deceased, April 16th in the presence of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Bro. Frank had not enjoyed the best of health for several years, but he was a patient sufferer, never murmuring.

In His 87th Year.

Born July 12, 1832. He professed faith in Jesus and united with the Clover Creek Baptist church near Hardinsburg, Ky., when he was about 40 years old; remained an honored member until he was called home. He lived a consistent christian life, cooperating with his brethren in every good word and work for the advancement of the Master's Kingdom. He loved the Lord's service, frequented his house and was a liberal contributor to every interest of the Lord's work.

In the going of Bro. Frank, the church sustains a great loss. Where shall we look for another to fill the vacancy in the church and kingdom that his death has thrust upon us?

Civil War Veteran.

In the sixties when our country was in the throes of Civil War, Bro. Frank then a young man, heard his country's call, and turning away from the comforts of home, he joined the forces of the Union and fought for the right as God gave him to see the right until victory crowned the efforts of the Union armies.

Much more might be said of this man of God; a man that loved right and hated evil with a bitter and unrelenting hatred. Can we not say the country is better because he lived?

Fought A Good Fight.

A good citizen, a good soldier of Jesus Christ, a christian patriot. He fought a good fight, he kept the faith he has finished his course and gone home to wear the crown of glory that fadeth not away.

His three children, Mrs. Frank De Haven of Hardinsburg, Millard Frank of Iowa, and Orval Frank of Hardinsburg, with many relatives and a host of friends mourn their loss.

Eternity is his with Christ in heaven. A life well spent is attuned for heaven's chimes. To other scenes thy spirit has flown. Farewell sainted one 'tis joy to thee from earthly chimes!

His pastor,
J. L. DeHart.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the death of our dear son and brother, Ivan McCarty and his little daughter.

Mother and Sisters.

Owen W. Rice Dies at Seventy-One.
Mr. Owen W. Rice, an aged and respected citizen of Balltown died at his home there on Friday morning. He was seventy-one years old and a native of Breckinridge county.

The funeral and burial took place Saturday afternoon. He leaves a widow and several children.

NOTICE

Advertisement For Claims.

All persons having claims against the estate of Dr. J. H. Hart, deceased will present same properly proven, to the undersigned Administrator, at the Law Office of Moorman & Walls, in Hardinsburg, Breckinridge County, Kentucky, on or before the first day of May 1919.

J. F. Hart, Administrator.

When the Inevitable Occurs

There will come a time, sooner or later, when your property must pass to others, being distributed either:

- (1) As you will it, if there is a legally drawn will; or
- (2) As the laws of the State provide, in case there is no will.

A will must name an executor to carry out its provisions; the court appoints an administrator to do the same when there is no will.

In either case, the fees are fixed by law, and it usually costs less to get the benefit of the expert service of a strong State-protected institution like this Company which makes a specialty of matters of trust, than it does to have the usually less dependable service of an individual executor or administrator. The reason for this is that the knowledge, experience and equipment of a Trust Company make for greater economy and efficiency of administration.

You are invited to consult with us about the best interests of your heirs.

NEW EXCHANGE TELEPHONE RATES EFFECTIVE MAY 1, 1919

A new schedule of telephone exchange rates became effective in Cloverport, Ky., May 1, by direction of the Operating Board of the United States Telegraph and Telephone Administration, acting under the order of the Postmaster General of the United States.

As you know, all of the lines and property of this company are in the possession, control and are being operated by the United States Government under the direction of the Postmaster General of the United States.

The new rates are necessary in order that additional revenue may be secured by the government to meet the increased operating expenses. The causes which make greater telephone revenue necessary are due to the new conditions and the new price levels introduced by the war and are entirely beyond the control of the United States Telegraph and Telephone Administration or of the Telephone Company.

More than two years ago the Company foresaw that the telephone system would be operated at a loss unless the rates could be adjusted to meet the increasing costs of all elements entering into the production of service. A similar rate adjustment would have been unavoidable under private control and the new rate schedule is practically the same we would have sought in 1918 if the government had not taken possession of our property.

As stated by the Postmaster General, the owners of the telephone system do not benefit in any way from rate changes. Practically all of the increased operating expenses which require this additional revenue are due to increased wages paid to employees to enable them to meet the new condition of life in the present day.

It is neither practicable nor desirable to reduce wages, and so far as wages are concerned we believe that portion of the increased operating expenses to be permanent.

The new rate schedule is fair and reasonable and the percentage of increased revenue which it will produce is much lower than the increased cost of other services and commodities of a similar character.

Complete detailed information about the new rates may be obtained at the manager's office. We are making every effort to change our records promptly, and your courteous consideration will be appreciated.

WEDNESDAY APRIL 30, 1919

Breckinridge county's quota for the Victory Loan is $200,400. The response our people gave to the 3rd, and 4th, loans was glorious. Our patriotism was not found wanting then. And we have the happy thought that the Victory Loan is going to be met in the very same way. But this time we feel that we are going to be moved by something more lasting than mere excitement of war and it will be the love of those fine sons of ours who so courageously gave their lives for the glory of mankind. Remembering them, we cannot fail.

The proposal of having a federal highway along the Ohio River has given those who live in the counties bordering the Ohio, a fuller appreciation of the beauty of their surrounding if nothing more. But we want more we want a highway that will traverse these counties and give other folks the pleasure of seeing a river that compares so favorably with the Hudson or the Rhine.

Judge Black was at Hardinsburg last Saturday in the interest of his race for the Democrat nomination for Governor. Judge Black has a host of friends in Breckinridge who believe he is the man to make the race. He is a fine pleasant gentleman and is making friends wherever he goes.

"Prosperity always travels on good roads."—We are preparing the way now for prosperity in Breckinridge County.

THE FARMERS COLUMN

By JOS. W. HARTH, County Agent

Your Questions Answered Any Assistance Rendered Drop a Card

Profitable live-stock farming, due to high prices of grain and hay, has become largely a matter of utilizing roughage to its fullest extent. Farmers who have or are planning to build silos will be in a position to meet this situation and produce milk, beef and mutton most economically. The silo has many advantages the principal one being that silage is the cheapest and most profitable form in which a succulent feed for winter use may be provided. Owing to the nature and feeding value of silage, cheap and practically unusable roughages may be used for feeding live-stock profitably. The silo also greatly enables the farmer to increase the carrying capacity of his farm. Approximately three times as many animals can be kept on one acre of silage than one acre of any other commonly grown crop. Corn and sorghum are the best crop for the silo. They make the largest yields, are easily harvested, are rich in food nutrients and owing to the large amount of water they contain, pack well, which is necessary in making a good quality of silage. If it has been decided to fill a silo during the coming year it is important that provision should be made for one of these crops.

Large number of soldiers who are being discharged daily at Camp Taylor are asking for work on farms. The War Department has asked the Department of Agriculture to locate through the County Agent and others all available farm opportunities either as laborers, managers, share or cash renters, for the benefit of these men who are being discharged and who wish to locate on farms. These soldiers are experienced farm workers and will in most cases make excellent farm hands. Any farmer of this county who would like to take this matter up and secure a man can do so by getting in touch with the County Agent.

Getting The Best Results

With Hired Labor.

Prepared by W. D. Nicholas, Farm Help Specialist.

If the hired man is to do satisfactory work he must not only know how to work but he must take an interest in his work, both in doing it well and doing it rapidly, so as to accomplish a full amount of work in a day. Here are some ways to stimulate and keep up his best interest and initiative.

Give him good tools to work with and see that his tools are kept in first class working order. Give him intelligent and interesting supervision. Usually the surest way to keep up his interest and efficiency is for the farmer to work with him and direct him as he works. Remember Benjamin Franklin's saying, "He who by the plow would thrive, himself must either hold or drive."

This does not mean that the farm owner should make a regular hand all the time. That would not be possible or profitable, particularly on good sized and large farms. He must necessarily devote considerable time to looking after the stock and other matters on different parts of the farm, to "keeping up the corners," "keeping equipment in good repair at all times, and to doing odds and ends that are necessary to keep the work as a whole moving rapidly and systemically.

There will also be considerable buying and selling and other necessary business transactions, which will necessitate his getting away from the farm from time to time. But for the best success in keeping the work moving rapidly he should be at home and "on the job" at all times except when important business makes it imperative for him to be away. It is especially important that he should be "on the job" at the beginning and quitting time so as to see that the men get started promptly in the morning and at noon and that the teams, tools, and equipment are in condition for efficient and uninterrupted work.

2. It usually helps to hold the interest of the hired men for the boss to discuss the farm work and plans with him. It pleases him to feel that some value is placed on his opinion and judgement and nearly always causes him to try to accomplish more and better work.

3. In order to get the best farm hands it is necessary to employ them by the year. This makes it necessary to organize the farm to provide profitable work in winter as well as in summer. A herd of beef cattle or dairy cows helps to solve the labor problem in winter by providing work in feeding, milking and manure hauling. In like manner the tobacco crop helps by providing work in stripping and marketing the crop and burning tobacco beds.

4. Married men in a majority of cases make more satisfactory and dependable farm hands than single men. The problem of insuring satisfactory help would be solved on many farms by building neat, comfortable and inexpensive dwellings in which to house farm laborers and their families. Plans and specifications for such houses can be had without expense by writing to the College of Agriculture.

SCHOOL NEWS AND VIEWS

By J. Raleigh Meador, Superintendent.

The following will be of interest to every teacher who expects to teach in a public school in Breckinridge county next year. By a public school is meant any school which receives any part of the public school fund from the State.

Agriculture.

The examination in Agriculture will be the last subject on Saturday of the May and June examinations, both white and colored, and any teacher who now holds a certificate of any grade issued by the State or County authorities authorized to issue such certificates will be required to take the examination in Agriculture only.

Where an applicant takes the examination in Agriculture only, the grade will be recorded in the County Superintendent's office and upon the face of the certificate which the applicant holds, but the grade in Agriculture will not change the "class" of the certificate.

The questions on Agriculture in the May and June examinations will be based upon Bulletins No. 54 and 56 issued by the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

I have previously sent these bulletins to each teacher. Others desiring them may secure them from Supt. V. O. Gilbert at Frankfort.

The holder of a State Normal Certificate is not qualified to teach in the public schools in Breckinridge county after July 1, 1919, without first passing an examination on the subject of Agriculture.

The examination for common school diploma will be held at Hardinsburg and Cloverport, on Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10. White teachers examination at Hardinsburg on Friday and Saturday, May 16, and 17. Colored teachers examination at Hardinsburg, on Friday and Saturday, May 23, and 24.

I shall appreciate it very much if each teacher who expects to take the examination in Agriculture will send me a Postal Card and state if you will take the May or June examination. I want to know how many teachers to arrange for and also how many to count upon for next year.

I have received from Mr. Logan Hickerson, who is now with the A. E. F. in France a set of "Souvenir de France" to be given to the boy or girl making the highest averages on the May examination for Common School Diploma. The prizes will consist of a First Prize made of French and German shells to go to the boy or girl making the highest general average on the examination, and a Second Prize pen staff and pen container to go to the boy or girl making the second highest general average. Competitors for these prizes must have been regularly enrolled in the eighth grade in some school in Breckinridge county during the past school year.

The prizes are now on display in the window of Kucheloe's Pharmacy in Hardinsburg.

Palm Brushes.

The same Chinese palms which provide the ordinary palm-leaf fans are now being cultivated for fiber as well as for leaves. The outer portion of the leaf stems is removed, the fiber cut into different lengths, and the product is ready to be shipped to the United States for use in brush manufacture.

FARM AND STOCK

Everett Lewis, of McQuady, has 14 ewes with 23 lambs all doing nicely, fat and plump and promise to be the finest bunch he ever raised. These lambs are Shropshires. His herd is headed by a buck he bought from W. R. Moorman & Son.

T. J. Hook received last week eight new Ford cars. All sold.

Jess Walls, of Hardinsburg, shipped last week to Ohio six thoroughbred game cocks for which he received $50.

Micajah Arms has sold his farm of 201 acres, near Hardinsburg, and all his farm implements to W. T. Macy for $5,500.

The largest sale of cattle ever made in this county was pulled off last Saturday by W. R. Moorman & Son at Glen Dean. This sale was for 26 head of thoroughbred short horn cows and 4 calves. The price was $5,000. D. Robert Davis, of Sylvia, N. C., was the purchaser. Mr. Davis came in on the noon train and was met by Mr. Walter Moorman in his machine. They motored out to Planters Hall Farm accompanied by Mr. John Jarboe, of this city.

They were gone about 2 hours, took dinner and a look at the cattle and the sale was consummated. Mr. Jarboe purchased a young short horn bull for $150 to head his herd down at Skillman.

Mr. Davis is a wealthy stock dealer and farmer of his section. He bought this bunch of short horns to place on farms of his neighbors. His section, he said, was well adapted to the raising of cattle and hogs; that he believed in starting with good herds so he came to Kentucky and Breckenridge county to get his foundation stock. He says the farmers of his section are just beginning to appreciate the value of good stock and are turning their attention to raising it.

To Buy Or Not To Buy!

That is the question. Then after you are fully convinced that you need to buy something, the next question is, where must I buy it? Then some one says, buy where you can get good quality stuff for the same amount of money, or less, than the same amount for which you can get it somewhere else. Then, besides this, you want to buy where you will receive honesty, prompt attention, courteous treatment and a cordial welcome. You will receive all these from us. NOTICE

Special Road Tax Election
May 20, 1919.

To The Voters of Breckinridge County:

I am directed by the Breckinridge Fiscal Court, to give due notice of the calling and holding of a Special Road Tax Election on Tuesday, May 20, 1919.

The question to be submitted is, whether or not the voters of Breckinridge County, are in favor of a Special Twenty Cent Tax Levy, on each $100 worth of property, subject to local taxation, in Breckinridge County each year for a period of 10 years, for the purpose of constructing and improving the roads of the county.

It is ordered and directed by the said Fiscal Court, that all of the funds raised by this supposed special tax, shall be apportioned among the Six Magisterial Districts of the county according to the amount, raised in each of the said Districts.

Polls will be opened as usual at each voting place, in each precinct, from 6:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M.

Given under my hand as Sheriff of Breckinridge County this April 10, 1919.

J. B. Carman,
Sheriff, Breckinridge County, Ky.

NOTICE

Breckinridge Fiscal Court, Proposes to Refund All Outstanding Railroad District Bonds, Which Mature July 1, 1919.

The Breckinridge Fiscal Court, by order duly entered on April 9, 1919, directs that $25,000, of the Railroad District Bonds, which were issued by the Hardinsburg Magisterial District and that portion of the Sixth Magisterial District, which lies north and west of the North Fork of Rough creek, from its mouth to the mouth of the Calimese creek, from its mouth to the line between the Fifth and Sixth Magisterial District, be refunded, paid off and retired on July 1, 1919 in as much as all of said bonds will mature on that date and for the purpose of refunding said bonds, said court proposes to issue bonds to the amount of $25,000, in denominations of $500 each. Bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July, of each year, to run for a period of not less than one year and not more than ten years, with twenty coupons attached, one for each semi-annual accrued interest. Said bonds to be sold at not less than par, and the proceeds to be used only for the purpose of retiring said outstanding bonds with any accrued interest thereon, and the County Judge and County Attorney were appointed as a committee to have printed said coupon bonds, and this Court will convene to take such further action and the making of further orders as may be necessary.

Given under my hand as Clerk of the Breckinridge County Court, this April 10, 1919.

A. T. Beard,
Clerk Breckinridge County Court.

FARM LANDS FOR DOUGHBOYS WHO WON WORLD WAR

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR WOULD MAKE LAND AVAILABLE FOR RETURNING SOLDIER.

INCREASE FOOD SUPPLY

Canadians and Anzacs Are Sending Their Returned Fighting Men to Farms.

All of the English-speaking countries that have taken part in the war are making arrangements to send as many returning soldiers back to the land as care to go. Canada has her plans well under way as have New Zealand, Australia, and the British Isles. In this country we are just getting well started on the proposition.

By means of investigations made by the government, it is found that we have millions of acres of lands, idle lands, lands suitable for homesteading, acres that ought to be adding to the world's food supply and giving homes to a race of independent American farmers.

The spirit of the whole nation is backing the proposal of Secretary of the Interior Lane to open all the available lands of the nation, the public lands of the country to the soldier. He has recalled to congress the great part the mustered out soldiers of the Civil War played in making the great West.

But to take this land, 15,000,000 available acres of it, and turn it over to the soldiers will require a governmental appropriation. The money will be needed to reclassify and open to entry the lands that are lying idle. It is the land of the government and can be made over to the returning soldier on splendid terms if the country will back up the proposal. What better use could be made of a part of the Victory Liberty Loan than this? And to what better use could it be placed to work for the future of the nation?

The money in the hands of the government will make this and other after-the-war projects of the government possible. These lands will give homes to thousands of soldiers home from the war.

It is the solution of such problems as this that causes the government to need money and to set about raising it through the Victory Liberty Loan and War Savings and Thrift Stamps. Every dollar's worth of securities bought will bring the day when before-the-war conditions return, just that much closer. The notes of the Victory Liberty Loan (short term bonds) will enable the nation to express its gratitude to the soldiers who come back; they will fortify our national prosperity, increase our shop and agricultural resources and at the same time they will be a good business proposition to the man who buys them.

NO INCOME TAX ON INTEREST FROM LIBERTY HOLDINGS

SECRETARY GLASS EXPLAINS EXEMPTION PROVISIONS FOR SECURITIES UP TO $30,000.

ADDITIONAL ATTRACTION

Concession Covering All Issues Effective Now and Extends for Five Years.

An important matter to be considered in the buying of Liberty Bonds, and one that will appeal to those who pay income tax to the Government, is that for the next five years following the termination of the war there will be no income taxes to pay on the interest received on bonds, according to section 2 (a) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act, as explained by Secretary of the Treasury Glass.

"It is perhaps not generally understood," Mr. Glass says, "that under the terms of that section the interest received on and after January 1, 1919, until the expiration of five years after the termination of the war, on an amount of bonds of the First Loan converted, the Second Loan converted and unconverted, the Third Loan and the Fourth Loan, the principal of which does not exceed $30,000 in the aggregate, owned by an individual, corporation, partnership or association, will be exempt from surtaxes, excess profits and war profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits."

This exemption is in addition to any others heretofore conferred and is independent of any subscriptions to the Victory Loan and immediately effective. This act also provides for the secretary to extend the privilege of converting 4 per cent bonds of the Second Loan into 4 1/4 per cent bonds, the higher interest rate to be effective from the semi-annual interest payment date next succeeding the date of presentation for conversion.

HONEY WILL REPLACE SUGAR

Shortage Problem Can Be Solved by Raising More Bees—Little Attention Needed.

The sugar shortage has caused much thought to be taken as to how we may overcome this difficulty and so far the best suggestion seems to be the general one of raising more bees and getting more honey. It is said that honey can be used in most recipes where sugar is called for, and it is claimed that the care of bees is less work than any other chore connected with the farm.

MORE CHOLERA SERUM USED

Greater Value of Hogs Is Responsible for More General Use of This Effective Remedy.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

More hog-cholera serum was manufactured last year than in any previous year, despite a decrease in the amount of hog cholera. The increased demand for hog-cholera serum is ascribed to the greater value of hogs, with the consequent greater loss when one dies, and to the fact that hog raisers are becoming more appreciative of the value of using serum manufactured under federal supervision.

Department of agriculture officials warn hog raisers against the indiscriminate use of medicines or proprietary preparations other than serums, as experience has shown that nothing except serum, properly prepared and administered, is effective. Medicines other than serums, according to department officials, are worse than useless, because they not only fail to cure or prevent disease, but allow the loss of the animals they are advertised to save, thus taking money from the farmer and meat from the nation's supply.

Antitoxins, serums, and other biological products for the treatment of domestic animals must be prepared in establishments operated under licenses issued by the secretary of agriculture before they may be marketed legally in interstate trade. Products of licensed establishments are prepared under the supervision of trained veterinarians and their assistants of the bureau of animal industry of the department. Sixty-eight veterinarians, in addition to forty-one inspectors and clerks, are now engaged in this work and are located in eleven states.

Federal regulations require that all animals used in the preparation or testing of hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus, both of which are used in the treatment of hogs in the prevention of hog cholera, be procured direct from farms and not transported through stockyards or similar places where they might be exposed to contagious diseases. As an additional safeguard all animals must not only be inspected by bureau veterinarians at the time they are presented for admission to licensed establishments, but each animal is carefully inspected at the time of inoculation as well as immediately before bleeding for the production of either virus or serum.

Veterinary biological products, after being properly prepared, are tested by laboratory methods and upon animals to determine whether they are free from contaminating organisms and will accomplish the object for which they are intended.

Federal inspectors, as well as employees of establishments, are required to keep satisfactory records relative to the inspection and manufacture of all products. In the year 1917, 250,041,290 cubic centimeters of anti-hog cholera serum were collected in licensed establishments. Of this amount 1,867,103 cubic centimeters were destroyed as unfit for use.

RUNNING SORES OF LONG STANDING CURED BY NUMBER 40

James Robinson, 821 Rowley St., Evansville, Ind., makes the following statement: "I suffered for five years with running sores from blood poison of long standing. I doctored with the best physicians and tried a number of advertised remedies but received no permanent benefit. My brother-in-law, R. Tadlock, advised me to try 'Number 40 For The Blood.' After using the first bottle I was benefited and was completely cured with five bottles and at this time, twelve months later, I have experienced no signs of the disease returning." Persons suffering with blood poison in any form should not delay but get "Number 40" at once.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT

A strict accounting is kept of the distribution of every penny subscribed for the relief of Jewish sufferers from the war in the Eastern-European zones. The money is spent through the American Jewish Relief Committee, of New York City, of which Alfred Lehman, noted financier, is treasurer. Distribution is made through the State Department at Washington and by United States consuls and American agents of the committee in Europe.

America is called upon to raise $55,000,000 this year for relief work to prevent the starving of millions of Jewish people. Kentucky is asked to raise in the great non-sectarian Jewish relief drive, April 7 to 11, the sum of $208,000 as the contribution of the commonwealth to this great cause.

This is the first time the Jewish people of the United States have asked others than Jews to contribute to this fund. In 1917, $10,000 was raised, practically by Jews, Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, himself giving a million dollars. In 1918, nearly $16,000,000 was raised, and now with the signing of the armistice and the approach of peace, America is asked to give $55,000,000.

The distribution of funds from March 31, 1918, to March 1, 1919, according to a recent report of the American Jewish Relief Committee, was as follows:

Poland and Lithuania, $7,500,000; Russia, $2,639,830; Palestine, $2,110,000; Galicia, $1,683,700; Turkey and Syria, $1,171,367; Romania, $1,553,900; Greece, $83,521; Serbia, $25,000; Bulgaria, $18,500; for refugees in France, Persia, Egypt, Tunis, Algeria, Morocco, Spain, Denmark, Switzerland and Japan, $195,294; in internment camps for Jewish prisoners of war, $15,500.

Plant Enough Seed Corn

The advice about "Plant one kernel for the blackbird, one for the crow, one for the cutworm, and two to grow" is just as appropriate now as ever. It is never advisable to plant weak seed, and it is the height of folly to attempt to atone for the weakness of the seed by planting a superabundance, as, irrespective of other conditions, weak seed will produce only low-yielding plants. For good harvests it is essential to plant vigorous seed of acclimated and well-known varieties. Experts of the United States Department of Agriculture recommend planting the best quality seed a little thicker than the stand desired in order to provide against unfavorable conditions. If these unfavorable conditions do not arise, it is easier to remove a few stalks from the growing crop than it is to replant, which always produces late-maturing, unprofitable plants. "Plant sufficient seed to secure a good stand," say the Federal specialists, "as it is more practicable and profitable to thin a thick stand of corn than to replant a patchy, spotted field." With good seed and good soil conditions, about four kernels should be planted for every three stalks desired.

PREVENTION IS ALWAYS BEST

Timely Measures Properly Applied Offer Surest Means of Control—Killing Often Advisable.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Poultry raisers who wait until disease appears in the flock and then prepare to make a defensive attack are likely to be successful only in rare cases. By far the best plan is to care for the flock in such a way that disease will not appear. The aim in controlling the diseases of poultry is, they add, to learn how to prevent them rather than how to cure.

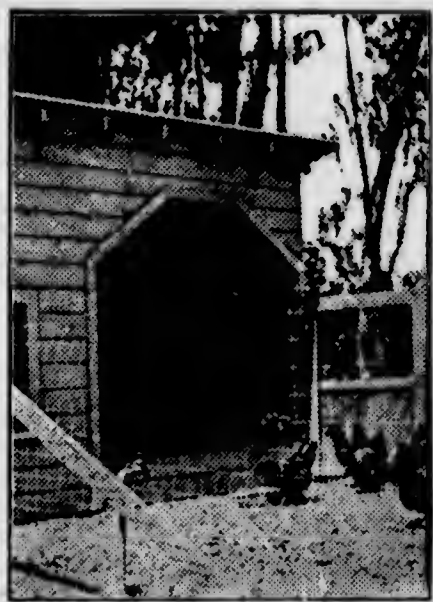

To enlighten poultry owners as to the characteristics of the more important diseases in order that they may intelligently use the most improved methods of combating them Farmers' Bulletin 957, "Important Poultry Diseases," has recently been published by the department. The causes, symptoms, from aspergillosis (brooder pneumonia) to worms, are given in this publication.

As all poultry is susceptible to many diseases, some of which are highly infectious and resist all efforts of treatment, the bulletin suggests that when birds become sick it is often the best plan to kill them. The greater the number of birds kept upon any farm or plot of ground, and the more they are crowded together, the more important are the measures for excluding, eradicating, and preventing the development of the causes of disease.

When disease appears among poultry the fowls should be removed from the poultry yard and a good coating of freshly slaked lime should be applied to the entire surface of the ground, according to the bulletin. After a few days it should be plowed and then cultivated three or four times at intervals of a week and finally sowed with oats, rye or other grain. It is best to leave the ground uncultivated by fowls until the winter has passed. After the fowls have been returned the premises must be frequently cleaned and occasionally disinfected.

The drinking fountains and feed troughs must be washed every week with boiling water or other disinfectant, and if any lice or mites are found on the birds or in the house the roosts and adjoining parts of the walls should be painted with a mixture of kerosene, one quart, and crude carbolic acid or crude creosol, one teacupful. The house may be whitewashed with freshly slaked lime or sprayed with kerosene emulsion. In case of an actual outbreak of a virulent disease it is well to add to each gallon of the whitewash six ounces of crude carbolic acid. Good disinfectants destroy the germs of contagious diseases, the external parasites, such as lice and mites, and in some cases the eggs of parasitic worms, and should be used frequently in and about the poultry house.

The Doughboy's Aversions

1. Cowardice.
2. Selfishness.
3. Braggadocio.

These, 'n the estimation of the American doughboy, are the three cardinal sins of the soldier. And equally they must be shunned by every American citizen, especially on the eve of the Victory Loan.

Cowardice: This weakness rarely crops out among American fighters and it is despicable quite as much in civil life as on the field of battle. The coward in the Victory Loan campaign is the contemptible individual who listens to the pro-German propagandists and fails to do his or her duty toward making the Victory Loan the great success it must be if we are to fulfill all our pledges to our fighters, our allies and the great human family.

Selfishness: On the firing line this mean trait occasionally manifests itself in the man who thinks more of his own skin than he does of his comrade's life. In ordinary associations we see more of it. Fortunately, selfishness can do little harm in the Victory Loan campaign. Self-interest will prompt even those whose guide and rule of conduct it is in almost everything to realize that their own future prosperity depends upon the success of the Victory Loan—the safest and best investment they can make. The more Government lot they buy for cash or on time payments, the better off they will be in this world's goods no matter if they ignore other and higher considerations.

Braggadocio: The typical Hun is a combination of brag and bluster and sniveling and cringing. The American fighter has taken the "B" out of "brag" so far as the Hun is concerned, and he will not tolerate bragging even among his own kind. The civilian should follow the fighter's example. Don't brag. Don't attempt to glorify yourself by telling what you have done for the government, no matter how many bonds of previous issues you have bought, or helped to sell to others; it is no time for bragging. Get busy and make a success of the Victory Liberty Loan.

In his description of the doughboy Chaplain Ewert declared he got his name for two reasons. First, because his secretary is a haker, and secondly, because he is the flower of the American Army, and like all good dough, he is always on hand when needed. In his appeal to support the Victory Loan the Chaplain said:

"The man whose heart does not respond in gratitude for what the boys did in France, and who forgets or quits in this hour for gratitude, or fails to do what he can, is an ingrate and a quitter. We must match in service the sacrifice of the men who now lie in their graves in France. We have reason to believe that all the states in the Eighth Federal Reserve District will measure up to their standard when the Victory Loan is inaugurated. The Victory Loan must measure up to the devotion of the boys overseas and there should be no let-down until the last dollar of indebtedness has been paid and the last boy over there comes home."

APPEALS TO THE INDIANS

Cato Sells in Discussion of War Savings Draws a Lesson For Everybody.

Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, has made an appeal to workers in the Indian service to do everything possible to help make a success of the 1919 War Savings campaign. Mr. Sells not only gives a searching analysis of the motives for thrift, but suggests a plan for making the thrift movement an instrument for bringing the Indian to his full stature of independent, self-reliant citizenship.

The commissioner urges the workers to bring home to the Indians, particularly the young and middle-aged, the immediate and lasting benefits of savings made with a right purpose. This practice, he points out, must have a worthy aim as its economic virtue and when, he says, "boys and girls are thus properly started their little income investments commit them concretely to that aim, and by repetition develop the elements of manly and womanly character."

LESSON IN THE STREET

Draw a lesson of patriotism from every soldier you meet on the street. The soldier was willing to risk his life to keep the German hordes out of the United States. He has successfully accomplished his job. Now your job is to see that the soldier is paid his wages, and that those in Europe, who have been asked to stay over there to help to preserve order, are brought back. Are your dollars going to be slackers while the soldiers are still called upon to endure the hardships of military duty along the Rhine?

WEEKLY PAYMENT PLAN.

The weekly payment plan in previous Liberty Loans for purchasers of $50 bonds will be continued in the Victory Loan campaign, which opens Monday, according to W. R. Compton, director of the war loans in the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

Under the weekly payment plan purchasers of the $50 notes must make a cash payment before May 10 and the remainder in $2 weekly payments for 23 weeks. Only the $50 notes will be sold on the payment plan, but there is no limit to the number of notes that one buyer may take. In the last campaign there were 785,000 buyers of the $50 bonds in the Eighth District, Mr. Compton has announced.

HERE'S A NEW LOAN POEM

It is Proving Popular and Inspiring at Liberty Loan Rallies.

The following inspirational poem is being used to put pep into public meetings these days. It seems to release the pent-up energy of the audience, and bring it all to bear on the subject in hand. It has been found effective and it is suggested that it be read or recited at all Victory Loan mass meetings:

Are we true Americans?
True blue.
Do we love the boys who went?
We do.
Have we lost our native pep?
Not yet!
Are we for the Victory Loans?
You bet!
